Then he went to Washing-ton, where he visited Secretary John W. Foster, and delicately intimated the proposition of President Heureaux. It was to the effect that if the United made. States would give him $75,000 a year be would refuse Germany's offer and stick o the United States. Otherwise our trade with San Domingo must be sacrificed. Foster told the envoy that the American government was neither to be calldozed nor to be blackmailed. If San Domingo breaks her treaty she must take the consequences of her act.
